

Hi,

This week we will discuss:

Letters: A,B,C, D and E, F

This is the time of year is when we dive into sight words. We introduce 3 a week. This week we will be reviewing the first six words that we have practiced. Please let them read their books to you that they color and bring home. It's good practice. They have many skills so far this year and are becoming quite proficient sounding out CVC words (consonant vowel consonant). Also, these kiddos are busy making some keepsakes and wrapping up some of our yearlong projects.

Our sight words: All the color words, I, see, the, you, are, a

Wednesday will be Gym, Library and we will swap out Activity Kits.

I will be out of class on Thursday. I am adopting a new puppy and I could only get an appointment in the middle of the morning. Your children will be in great hands. Mrs. Favro will lead the class and Mrs. Stevens will assist. Thank you for understanding. My family is extremely excited for our new Chocolate Lab. We just can't decide on a name.

Calendar

May 1 – Graduation pictures to be taken (nothing needs to be done before pictures are taken)

May 6 – Fire Fighter visit

May 13 – School Bus safety

May 22 - Field trip to the Planetarium

May 27 - Memorial Day -No School

May 28 – UPK and KP have class

June 4 – End of year Event - The last day of school will be our End of Year Celebration. This will take place on Tuesday June 4th 12:30 – 1:30 PM. Everyone is invited to attend. We do a quick ceremony in the room and then gather for a picnic lunch outside (if the weather cooperates) or in the gym if rains.

As always, thank you for sharing your precious little ones with us! They truly do warm our hearts and make us smile every day! All the teachers at RNS love to stop in and visit with this class. They are a great group!

Have a wonderful weekend,

Karen
